

A SOULFUL SOJOURN
A PRAYAS TRIBUTE TO JAGJIT
SINGH THROUGH PANKAJ UDHAS

The Legendary singer, king of ghazals, Jagjit Singh is no more with us, but, his immortal voice will always remain resounding our homes and hearts for all times to come. The best-ever versatile renditions of Jagjit Singh shall keep moving the deepest corners of our emotions and thoughts all the time, reaching the millions of homes and concerts creating melodious evenings.

Jagjit Singh was a remarkable human being, a man of parts and multi-faceted personality with friends and admirers across the globe. He associated himself with thousands of individuals and organizations serving noble causes to help the poor and downtrodden.

Not many people would know that for several years he quietly remained the active and serving President of “PRAYAS”, one of the best known organizations for children in the country.

As President of “PRAYAS”, Jagjit Singh took keen interest in the activities of the organization spreading over eight States and Union Territories of the country, including Delhi, Bihar, Gujarat, Assam, Arunachal Pradesh, Haryana, Jharkhand and Andaman & Nicobar Islands. “PRAYAS” directly serves nearly 50000 children, youth and women in crisis and deprivation through 231 centres of alternative education and vocational training, 11 homes for the homeless children and elaborate health care, nutrition and economic empowerment programmes to support them and their communities.

The present President of “PRAYAS”, a celebrated national figure and Member of Parliament, Shatrughan Sinha, joined by the General Secretary Prayas Amod K. Kanth, invites friends, admirers and supporters, the socially-spirited people, to participate in an evening on 23rd December 2011 to pay a musical tribute to Late Jagjit Singh, followed by dinner.

This evening is being organized at the initiative of another remarkable humanist, an outstanding artist and ghazal singer Pankaj Udhas, who also deeply associates himself with “PRAYAS” and the common cause to support the marginalized children and the communities across the country.

Together, we wish to create a memorable evening at the Convention Hall, Ashok Hotel, Chanakyapuri, New Delhi to immortalize the songs of Jagjit Singh through the voice of Pankaj Udhas.
